

Technological change and the future of work submission

Your review seems to miss one very important matter – the health of employees. Perhaps this matter 'out of scope', but I believe this should be within scope. Both practically and ethically it should, in my view, be deemed the most important consideration in terms of productivity (as well many other matters for a well-functioning society)

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/30168878>

<https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/full/10.1002/hpja.200>